

Mary Powell bio

Ms. Powell has been in the field of mental health and addiction treatment for thirty years. She holds an undergraduate degree in Psychology from James Madison University and a graduate degree in Rehabilitation Counseling with a specialty in treating addictions. In her career, Ms. Powell has worked in three community services boards, the correctional system, and a private (Medication Assisted Treatment) MAT clinic. Currently, she owns a private practice in Fishersville, specializing in working with adults who have mental health and addiction needs.